Early registration ends November 9th, 2009!

The ACM CoNEXT 2009 conference will be held December 1-4 2009 as a major forum for future networking technologies. The conference is single-track and features a high-quality technical program. There will be significant opportunities for individual and small-group technical and social interactions. ACM CoNEXT aims to encourage open discussions on technology alternatives and become a forum accommodating different viewpoints and research approaches.

The main conference will be preceded by three parallel one-day workshops on December 1:

- ACM CoNEXT 2009 Student Workshop
- ReArch'09 - Re-Architecting the Internet
- U-NET'09 - User-provided Networking: Challenges and Opportunities

You may find the complete technical programs at:

- ACM CoNEXT main conference program: <http://conferences.sigcomm.org/co-next/2009/program.php>
- Student Workshop program: <http://conferences.sigcomm.org/co-next/2009/workshops/student/>
- ReArch'08 program: <http://conferences.sigcomm.org/co-next/2009/workshops/rearch/>
- ROADS'08 program: <http://conferences.sigcomm.org/co-next/2009/workshops/unet/>

We invite you to join us in Rome, the Eternal City, and explore its 3000 years of history. Visit the URL
