The Plan: Assume fully Virtual, but...

- We will prepare for a fully Virtual conference, leveraging what will be more than a year of experience from this year's conference, SIGComm 2020, and SIGComm 2021
- In parallel, we are also making arrangements for an in-person conference, should the health and economic conditions improve enough.
- Site tentatively chosen:
 - Hotel des Poulprie, a palace built in 1703 which now hosts the headquarters of the association of alumni of Ecole Polytechnique. The venue is next to the Seine river and the Musee d'Orsay.
